

The Bulletin of the Research Institute for Japanese Studies

March/2023
Vol.15

Kanda University of International Studies

《Articles》

1	Central Politics and the Satsuma Clan in the Second Half of the Keio Period: With a Focus on the Bakusatsu and Sacchou Reconciliations and the Satsuma-British Negotiations	Akihiro MACHIDA
308(1)	The Portrait of a Forgotten Meiji-Period Japanologist: Captain Francis Brinkley (1841-1912)	Alexandra MUSTĂȚEA
258(51)	Francis Brinkley and the Japanese Ceramics Collection at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston	Ai FUKUNAGA
240(69)	A Letter of the First Minister Plenipotentiary to France Samejima Naonobu to Minister of the Right Iwakura Tomomi (part 2)	Kiyoshi MATSUDA
182(127)	The Relationship between "Nihon-Canton Gakushu Shingosho" and "Cantonese Phrases for Ad-hoc National Census" (5)	Toshie YAMAMURA
138(171)	Several Features of Personal Pronoun Plurality and Xündú-Readings Found in "Nihon-Canton Gakushu Shingosho"	Akifumi YAHANASHI
130(179)	How to Continue and End a Complaint in Conversations: Focus on the Ways of the Listener's Empathic Reaction	Yurie KAMATA
104(205)	Japanese Overseas Migration Policy: Transition of Emigration Policy to Latin America and Formation of Japanese Society	Koichiro YAGINUMA

《Special Contribution》

274(35)	New Religious Movements and Conservative Politics in Japan: An Overview of Electoral and Non-Electoral Political Activities of Happy Science and the Happiness Realization Party	Jeffrey James HALL
---------	--	--------------------

《Lecture Report》

72(237)	The Meaning of 'Japanese Tradition' for the Western Intellectuals Who Witnessed Japan's Modernization: The Case of Francis Brinkley's Writings on Bushidō and Japanese Ceramics	Alexandra MUSTĂȚEA Miki SAKURABA
---------	---	-------------------------------------

《Activity Report》

45	Special Exhibition: Akashi Hiroakira, Pioneer of Kyoto Modernization	Kiyoshi MATSUDA
55	"Asian Philosophical Texts (4)"	Alexandra MUSTĂȚEA
57	List of Activities

The Research Institute for Japanese Studies
Kanda University of International Studies
Chiba, Japan